Fortunately, not all law firms are the same. Some want to be big. Some want to be famous. Some want to be all things to all people. Others just want your money.

At MWR, however, we're rather different. For a start, we're specialists. We look after the needs of individual clients - just like you – rather than companies. We give our clients the individual care and attention they deserve. This, combined with cutting-edge technology and our commitment to quality, makes us the number one choice for private clients.

We've come a long way since opening our doors for the first time 100 years ago. From our humble beginnings in 1912, we have built a well-earned reputation as one of the North's premier private client law firms. In some cases, we've earned a national reputation for our work.

All this is based on a friendly, individual approach, which is highly practical and professional. With expertly qualified, specialist teams at your disposal, you can be sure that you're in the best possible hands with MWR.

ROAD TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

It's a sad fact of life that even the safest of drivers get involved in road traffic accidents.

If you are involved in an accident of any kind, you need to know that a specialist lawyer will be fighting your corner. Our team of experts will ensure that your case is handled professionally and tenaciously, providing advice of the highest possible standard.

We will advise you on what to do following an accident and guide you on claiming compensation for any injuries you suffer and any losses you incur. This includes loss of earnings, repair costs, prescription charges, replacement car hire and, with cases involving serious injury, the cost of private medical care together with any ongoing treatment.

Our road traffic accident team has a successful track record in securing the maximum possible compensation for victims, and our NO WIN, NO FEE scheme means that you will not have to pay your legal costs if your case is unsuccessful.

Our team also advises on accidents at home, sporting and holiday accidents.

ACCIDENTS AT WORK

Accidents at work occur at an alarming rate with more than 25,000 serious accidents in the UK every year - and that's not including all the accidents that go unreported.

If you are injured in an accident at work, we will advise you whether you are entitled to make a claim and will pursue that claim on your behalf.

Choosing the right solicitor for your case is the most important decision you will make - it is essential that you select one with substantial experience in work-related accident claims.

MWR provides sympathetic legal advice from an expert team of lawyers who are committed to protecting the rights of injured people and who are tuned in to their needs.

We appreciate that pursuing a compensation claim is yet another thing to cope with at an already stressful time. We understand this and will work with you in order to ease your journey through the compensation process.

OCCUPATIONAL DISEASES

MWR is well-known throughout the country in the field of occupational health, with decades of experience of working with individuals and trade unions.

Our legal team has a successful track record in obtaining compensation for people suffering from work-related illnesses such as vibration white finger, deafness, chronic bronchitis and emphysema, WRULD (Work Related Upper Limb Disorders), RSI (Repetative Strain Injury), spinal injuries and many others.

EMPLOYMENT LAW

With the UK and EU parliaments passing new laws on a yearly basis, employee rights have increased significantly over recent years. Employers are coming under immense pressure to comply with the latest legislation.

If you need specialist advice in this area, we have a team of highly experienced solicitors dedicated to handling employment cases on behalf of employees.

We are highly skilled in every aspect of employment law, and have acted in many ground-breaking cases. With a dedicated team, we have the experience and resources to deal with cases of any type or size including

- employment contract disputes
- negotiating contract terms
- discrimination
- harassment and bullying
- unfair dismissal
- redundancy
- holiday and working time disputes
- disability in the workplace

WILLS & PROBATE

For peace of mind when you die, a will is essential. Yet many people never make one.

This may be because they just don't want to think about it, or because they are undecided on the future of their estate after death, or simply because they have not got around to it yet.

Whatever the reason, MWR can help. Our experts can talk through your options and advise you on the right provisions to safeguard your financial security.

We also offer a probate service, whether our partners are named as executors or not. The process of dealing with an estate can be complex and time-consuming but we can handle it all in the most sensitive way possible.

Our team is skilled in dealing with elderly people, who may feel most vulnerable, and can advise on their needs and options in a service tailored individually for them. Our services include:

- will writing
- tax planning
- living wills
- assets in foreign jurisdictions
- wills providing for disabled relatives
- statutory wills
- Islamic wills

CONVEYANCING

For many people, buying a house is the largest single financial transaction they are likely to make. You may also have a property to sell at the same time, or you may simply seek a re-mortgage. Whatever your needs, MWR can help.

Let our conveyancing team take care of the process for you. With our considerable experience and expertise, we can ensure the transaction runs smoothly and quickly causing as little interruption to your lives as possible.

We provide an independent and professional approach to residential property to ensure your move goes ahead with the minimum of delay and anxiety.

Our conveyancing team is dedicated to providing a fast and efficient service, using the very latest technology to make the process as fast and straightforward as possible, whilst keeping you fully informed every step of the way.

If you're buying or selling a property, call or email us for a detailed quotation.
