Fortunately, not all law firms are the same. Some want to be big. Some want to be famous. Some want to be all things to all people.

At MWR, however, we're rather different. For a start, we're specialists. We look after the needs of individual clients - just like you - rather than companies. We give our clients the individual care and attention they deserve. This, combined with cutting-edge technology and our commitment to quality, makes us the number one choice for clients. From our humble beginnings in 1912, we have built a well-earned reputation as one of the North's premier law firms.

All this is based on a friendly, individual approach, which is highly practical and professional.

MWR holds the nationally recognised quality awards, ISO 9001, Investors in People and Lexcel.

Each recognise different aspects of excellence, but all require commitment to providing the highest quality of management and client care, and to developing every member of the firm to achieve their highest potential.

All standards are subject to regular, independent scrutiny to give you confidence that the service provided by MWR is second to none.

OUR LEGAL SERVICES

ACCIDENT CLAIMS:

If you are involved in an accident of any kind you need to know that a specialist lawyer will be fighting your corner. Our team of experts will advise you on whether you are entitled to make a claim, and pursue that claim on your behalf professionally and tenaciously.

We understand that pursuing a compensation claim is yet another thing to cope with at an already stressful time. We will work with you in order to ease your journey through the compensation process.

Our accident team also advises on accidents at work, public premises, on the road, in the car, through sports and on holidays.

EMPLOYMENT LAW:

With the UK and EU parliaments passing new laws on a yearly basis, the rights of an employee have increased significantly. Employers are coming under immense pressure to comply with the latest legislation, but don't always do so.

We are highly skilled in every aspect of employment law and have acted in many ground-breaking cases. With a dedicated team, we have the experience and resources to deal with cases of any type or size.

WILLS & PROBATE:

For peace of mind before you die, a will is essential. Yet many people never make one.

This may be because they just don't want to think about it, or because they are undecided on the future of their estate after death, or simply because they have not got round to it yet. MWR can simplify the process for you and help you make sure your wishes are carried out after your death.

We also offer a probate service, whether our partners are named as executors or not. The process of dealing with an estate can be complex and time-consuming but we can handle it all in the most sensitive way possible.

CONVEYANCING:

For many people, buying a house is the largest single financial transaction they are likely to make. You may also have a property to sell at the same time, or you may simply be seeking a re-mortgage. Whatever your needs, MWR can help.

Let our conveyancing team take care of the process for you. With our considerable experience and expertise, we can ensure the transaction runs smoothly and quickly causing as little interruption to your lives as possible.

FAMILY LAW:

Our family team have an excellent reputation in advising on all aspects of family law. From divorce to formal separation agreements, financial issues to mediation we can assist you on all aspects affecting married and cohabiting couples.

Furthermore, we also advise on all issues that can arise on separation for cohabiting couples, dealing with all financial aspects, property and children issues, and obtaining court relief if necessary.

Our family law experts are committed to providing you with the best advice to assist you and where possible will endeavour to resolve disputes by negotiation, mediation and reconciliation.
